In 2019-20, GISD’s HR Recruiting team enlisted the help of Communications to revamp their marketing efforts. Communications designed a unique piece that doubles as both a business card and informational flyer. When it’s folded, two credit card-sized plastic covers display contact information and social media handles. When it’s unfolded, a front/back letter-sized paper lists salary information, selling points and other district facts. A fun, clean layout was used with modern colors, large numbers and icons to make information quickly accessible to the viewer.
